

Dear Humans,

You might think throwing the bottle in a bush is funny, but little do you know you're murdering hundreds of animals. You need to be careful because if you don't then you're gonna regret it. You need to be respectful of others who cant speak up for themselves. Your going to kill off every animal in this world, for not putting a plastic bottle in the recycling. Start changing now or destroy your world your choice. - sincerely your fellow beings

Dear Humans,

You might think throwing the bottle in a bush is funny, but little do you know you're murdering hundreds of animals. You need to be careful because if you don't then you're gonna regret it. You need to be respectful of others who cant speak up for themselves. Your going to kill off every animal in this world, for not putting a plastic bottle in the recycling. You have six years to fix this or your going to suffocate on your own regrets. Start changing now or destroy your world your choice. - sincerely your fellow beings
